

PETTY ROBBERIES
GROWING EPIDEMIC.

Night Marauders Enter Sleeping Rooms of Homes at Perryopolis.

TOOK PANTS FROM A PILLOW

To Which They Were Pinned at the Home of Alvin Slaley. While the Owner Slept Peacefully—Also Cash and Watch—Ransacker Home Also Robbed.

While Alvin Slaley slept peacefully in the small hours this morning at his home at Perryopolis burglars came and removed his pants which had been pinned to his pillow so burglars couldn't burgle them. A safety pin that securely attached Slaley's pants to his pillow was fastened, the pants were removed from the bed and their contents removed. The trick was worth $25.00 to the burglar.

It was a whole lot at that, for Slaley had a revolver beneath the pillow ready for action if he was awakened by a tapping at his pillow. However, he was this morning when he awoke and found his pants gone. He retrieved them from down stairs with the pockets turned inside out. A gold watch that had been in another room was also gone. The burglar had climbed a rear door to the house. Nothing but the cash and the watch was disturbed.

At the home of Ed. Hamster, also a resident of Perryopolis, only provisions were taken. At the Hamster home the burglar did not enter the bed room. A quantity of pie, cakes and other viands were taken from the dining room and kitchen.

From Hamster's the burglar, or burglars, went to the home of I. H. Hough. "There members of the family heard a suspicious noise and when Hough got up to investigate, the burglar ran through the back yard.

Perryopolis and vicinity seems to be infested with a gang of petty robbers. They have been house breaking for the past month and several stores have also been robbed. In one instance a wagon was used to haul away the stolen goods.

Gas consumers are advised by the company to be prepared in event the supply should fail, in order to preclude the possibility of danger when the resins is turned on full once more.

The plans for the new association call for shares at fifty cents each.

While no statement has been given out officially on the proposed new association, share subscriptions have been solicited in Connellsville and quite a number have been subscribed. Son Rescues His Father
Unconscious From a Well.

D. J. Wolfersberger of Rockwood Hauled Out by His Boy With Rope After Fainting From Gas and Smoke.

D. J. Wolfersberger, a widely known resident of Rockwood, owes his life to the heroic efforts of his son. For several days Wolfersberger has been digging a well at his home at Rockwood. Yesterday, shortly before noon, a charge of dynamite was set off in the well, a rock having been encountered in the digging. The elder Wolfersberger was alone at the work at the time and following the blast he descended into the well. He did not give the work sufficient time to clear of the gas and smoke created by the heavy charge of dynamite and within a few seconds was overcome. A son, W. J. Wolfersberger, noticed

HEAVY RAINS FALL
IN THIS SECTION.

But Connellsville Was Not Within the Storm Belt of Yesterday.

NOT EVEN A SPRINKLE HERE

Although it Rained Hard in the Mountains of Springfield Township, and Pittsburgh, on the West, Got Drenched—Temperature High.

Although there were heavy showers yesterday throughout western Pennsylvania, not even a sprinkle was noticeable in Connellsville. The rain belt seemed to pass entirely around the coke region, which today is still sweltering in the oppressive heat which has continued unabated for more than a week, broken only for a few minutes by a slight shower Thursday afternoon.

The rain in the vicinity of Pittsburgh yesterday reached the proportions of a cloudburst in spots. Traffic on the Baltimore & Ohio was halted for a time just east of McKeesport where the precipitation was so great as to cover the tracks in places.

In the mountains of Springfield and Saltillo, townships heavy rains were reported, which did great good to the farmers of that vicinity who were badly in need of rain. That section has suffered with drought in common with the rest of the county. The rain did not pass over the southern end of the county.

In Connellsville yesterday there was not even the promise of rain. The temperature was high and stifling throughout the day, getting above 90 in the afternoon. Today indications were for another scorching afternoon. The record at the West Penn this morning was the highest of the present season, 80 degrees at 8 o'clock. This is two degrees higher than the previous high mark of a week ago.

GETS WRONG CAR;
GIRL LOST HERE.

Started From Johnstown for Buffington But Landed at This Place.

FOUND ON EAST PARK BRIDGE

Had Been Waiting Hours for Father or Sister to Arrive When Officers Found Her—Chief of Police Hetzel Gets Busy.

Coming from Johnstown to Uniontown, on her way to Buffington, Julia Donnelly, aged about 20, boarded the wrong car last evening and came to Connellsville. She did not discover her mistake in time to turn back and spent the night at one of the uptown hotels. From there she communicated with her father, who said he would meet her here this morning. He told her to meet him on the "iron bridge."

When Miss Donnelly started out this morning she was directed to the bridge leading to the East Park addition. Expecting her father early, she went to the bridge and paced it from end to end until residents of East Park became alarmed that she might be contemplating a suicidal leap from the high structure. They telephoned the police.

Officer Joseph O'Driscoll and Constable Charles Wilson hurried to the bridge and found the girl still waiting. She had been there more than two hours. They took her to the police station where she told her story to Chief of Police George Hetzel.

Chief Hetzel immediately began efforts to reach the father, James Donnelly, by telephone. The officers were unable up to noon to locate the party wanted and whether Donnelly is in Connellsville looking for his daughter or sent her sister, who failed to locate her, was not learned.

IRRIGATION BY THE GOVERNMENT.

Extent of the Projects and Success That Attends Them.

TWENTY-EIGHT ARE UNDER WAY

Total Cost When Completed Will Be $145,000—There Will Be No Diminution of the Movement in the West.

United Press Special.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—A grand statement of the vast extent of the government's irrigation projects and the success that attends their operation was made today by C. J. Blanchard, administrator of the Reclamation Service, who has returned from a tour of inspection.

"At the present time there are 28 projects in various stages of construction," said Blanchard. "The total acreage involved in these projects is 3,200,000 which will provide homes for approximately 320,000 persons on farms, and an equal number in cities, towns, and villages within this area or in the neighborhood thereof, or a total of 640,000 people. The total area under water is 1,000,000 acres on which have been established approximately 14,000 families, and an equal number have taken up their homes in the cities, towns, and villages.

"The progress of the engineers has been rapid, notwithstanding isolated location of the principal engineering works from transportation and the many difficulties which have been encountered in the promotion of the work. Up to the present time the canal systems constructed have a total length of 5,521 miles. Many of these canals carry whole rivers. Placed end to end they would reach from New York City to San Francisco, back to New Orleans, tunnels having a total length of 16 miles have been excavated, mostly through mountains. The excavation of rock and earth amount to the enormous total of 66,000,000 cubic yards, or more than one-third of the yardage required for the Panama Canal. Owing to the location of some of the principal works in regions heretofore inaccessible, the Reclamation Service has been compelled to construct 575 miles of wagon roads, some of which are in the most rugged country on this continent. The Service has in operation 1,508 miles of telephones, 275 miles of transmission lines, and is furnishing power and light for municipal and manufacturing uses to seven cities and towns from its own power plants.

"The investment of the government in the projects now under construction is $145,000,000. The total computed cost of these projects when completed is $145,000,000. The allotment to cover the work during the present fiscal year is $10,000,000. This does not include the issue of $20,000,000 in certificates, which will be available when required.

"Using as a basis the present value per acre of irrigated land in the projects of the Government with sufficient water right, it is conservative to state that the total value of all the lands under these projects when irrigated will exceed $300,000,000. These lands are virtually mortgaged to the Government to repay the cost of the irrigation systems, which is computed at $15,000,000.

"The gross value of crops produced in 1910 in lands which were supplied by the Government irrigation systems approximated $150,000,000. The value of the improvements of the Government in building buildings, fences, etc., is $7,500,000. The value of live stock is $1,000,000. The total increase in the value including lands, implements, buildings, live stock, etc., as a result of providing irrigation for these farms is not less than $300,000,000. Comparing the former selling prices of the other lands which are included in the government projects but not yet irrigated, with the prices at which they are now being sold, an additional increase in value of $300,000,000 is shown as a result of this development.

"There is no more hopeful sign in connection with the home-building work of the Government than the surprisingly large number of settlers who have left the cities and towns to take up their homes in the desert. The reports from the field are gratifying for the reason that a very small percentage of failures is shown.

"Information from all sources shows no diminution in the movement of the people to the West. Railroads report that the travel has been above the average, with a promise of great increase in the fall.

"At present the government farms are limited to five projects, and include only 300 farm units. The field forces are pushing forward the work of extension of canals in order to make ready for settlers a large area of new lands, some of which will probably be opened in the fall.

"The question, 'Can a merchant, mechanic, lawyer, doctor, or other professional man succeed as a farmer in the West?' has always been answered, given good health, a small capital to make a start, and a willingness to work, and the answer in most cases is 'Yes.'"

EXPERIENCED MINERS—

Will Be Provided in Men Who Understand Breathing Apparatus.

In a circular being sent out by the Bureau of Mines over the signature of Dr. J. A. Holmes, it is said that it has often been found necessary to temporarily employ miners who have been trained in the use of breathing apparatus. In preparation for the most effective work in cases where this is necessary, and to have at all times adjacent to where their services may be needed a competent staff of available men for such employment, it is proposed to establish a system of supplemental training of miners, under competent instructors, at private and State rescue stations, in which work the Bureau of Mines will follow the plan outlined as follows:

1. Representative of the Bureau, on invitation, will inquire into the facilities provided by mine owners, States or organizations, for furnishing instruction and training in the use of breathing apparatus, and such stations as are adequately equipped will be recorded as a co-operating training station.

2. Men trained in the use of breathing apparatus at such stations, will, upon application, be invited to appear at government rescue stations or camps for examination for the receipt of a certificate. Applications for record as co-operating training stations, or for supplemental training for a Bureau of Mines certificate, should be made to the Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh, Pa.
